

Passive sources of radio calibration [Time: 8+0]

Thursday, 8 April 2021 08:56 (8 minutes)

In this talk, I will introduce potential passive sources (i.e. ones that operate without any intervention from us) that might be useful for calibration of a radio array. Such sources include satellites, radiosondes as well as potentially airplanes and snowmobiles.

Primary author: DEACONU, Cosmin (University of Chicago)

Presenter: DEACONU, Cosmin (University of Chicago)

Session Classification: Radio